Design a Website with Low-Code Xelence

Gita Publishing House, which manages the Dada Vaswani Books website, sells books based on Sadhu Vaswani and Dada J.P. Vaswani's teachings and other merchandise on positive thinking, personal growth, happiness, how to live a good life, and spiritual enlightenment.

Problem Statement

Dada Vaswani Books' website was built on PHP and did not meet the client's standards. It didn't have many features that a modern e-commerce platform has today.

The client was looking for a partner to help them modernize their website and convert it into a fully-functional e-commerce site. The client wanted an online bookstore where people can buy books and other merchandise without any technical issues.

Our Solution

Every year Sagitec takes up a few projects as part of our Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives where we give back in monetary, time spent, or technical ways.

This project is one of our initiatives where we provided the organization with our technical expertise and effort so they can continue to offer their services to society.

We developed the website on Xelence, Sagitec's low-code/no-code platform, and hosted it on the cloud.

Shopping, searching for and filtering on various themes, authors, or even categories has never been easier for their website users.

Since we used client-side filtering, any filters users choose, they receive instant results and a great user experience.

Website With Instant Results After Filtering on Categories

Depending on the number of books and the city of delivery, logical rules at the backend calculate the delivery charges and update the order amount.

Integration with payment gateways is easy with Xelence, as there are many APIs and connectors to integrate with several vendors.

The Xelence team also provided an admin panel to the client with which admins can log in, upload any new merchandise or update existing ones, and manage the entire catalog in an easy-to-use process.

Admin Panel for Easy Catalog Modifications

We took the website live in two weeks with only three people working part-time. Over 30,000 people have visited the website since publishing and completed hundreds of purchases.

“The Sagitec team understood our challenges quickly and provided us with a detailed plan to build a commercial website. They also created a login for our organization with which the admins can maintain the products and the catalog. We have made it easy for our customers to visit and shop on our website, and we are happy that Sagitec is our partner.”

– Gulshan Dudani, Managing Director, Gita Publishing House
